Master's message: Brothers

The craft has a power that can transform your life , Love your family, love your friends and try to love everybody around you that you possibly can, even if you don't understand them. Changing someone else is not your job. Helping and understanding your brothers changes you inside. So shower your Brothers with blessings and forgiveness. This will become a life-changing habit. This my Brothers is the power of the craft. My heart is filled with great gratitude seeing our lodge filled with brothers and family but most of all the children running around the dining hall at the masters breakfast having the best of times. Keeping our promises to preserve the future of new members and families is greatest gift any master can hope for. My question: Is Franklin becoming a loving family for all its members and families so we can preserve the what is in front of us.

Thank you Bobby Caron
